CHEF PAUL PAIRET has transformed Shanghai's food landscape during his time at Ultraviolet. The restaurant's 20-course degustation is designed to totally overwhelm every sense, served in a dining room with 360-degree cinema screens, 56 speakers and four dry smell projectors. While the restaurant is currently booked out till December, Ultraviolet is already taking appointments for the new year. uvbypp.cc

RAISE THE BAR

Bars we love at Shanghai hotels...

SALON DE NING AT THE PENINSULA

Hidden in the basement of five-star Peninsula Shanghai, dramatic oil paintings, silk drapes, cascading chandeliers and a live jazz band - you'll be transported back to the 1920s. peninsula.com/Shanghai

VUE BAR AT HYATT

This place has won the geographic lottery. Located on the 32nd and 33rd floors of the popular hotel, VUE Bar offers nearly 360-degree views of the city. But this isn't its most impressive feature - that goes to the outdoor jacuzzi. shanghai.bund.hyatt.com

LONG BAR AT WALDORF ASTORIA

It was once known as the world's longest bar, measuring at 39 ft (hence the name), but The Waldorf Astoria Long Bar is also known for its old English, gentry vibe thanks to its former life as a British Gentleman's club. waldorfastoriashanghai.com

FINE DINING

Experience authentic Cantonese dim sum re-imagined with a modern flair at The Peninsula's Yi Long Court. Savour the new Five Fortunes Dim Sum Set, of expertly crafted dim sum highlighting delicacies such as foie gras, caviar, fresh lobster, abalone and Wagyu beef. shanghai.peninsula.com
